

Under what conditions might this privacy policy not operate?

In addition to directly providing your information to us, you might also provide Personal Information through chat sessions, email exchanges or forums or comments on our website. Whilst this initial contact would be on our website, the live chat is hosted on a separate platform and therefore the Privacy Policy does not cover this type of transfer of your Personal Information. You should always be careful when distributing your Personal Information in this manner.